Cambios introducidos en la evaluación

The final written test represents up to 60% of the grade. Will be online, and questions for reflection or relating will be asked. In it, in addition to the students' knowledge about the theoretical contents and practical application of the subject, critical attitude, maturity and formal correction will be assessed, including the appropriate use of the subject's own terminology, the expository order, the presentation and coherence of written discourse and the care of syntax and spelling. Those who have to carry out the practical part will solve a practice similar to those carried out in class that are available to students on the virtual campus.

By virtue of the provisions of article 7 of the Regulation for the evaluation of learning outcomes and the competences acquired by students and in accordance with the teaching guide of the subject Political Science, the following criteria for differentiated evaluation are established for the students

1. The percentage distribution of the different activities programmed throughout the course will be similar to that of the rest of the students enrolled in ordinary or full-time dedication conditions, as included in section 6 of the Teaching Guide: evaluation of the learning of the students.
2. Students on a part-time basis may complete the program of the subject in a non-presential manner. To do this they must complete all the practical activities of the subject individually with the aim of being able to answer a question in the final exam related to classroom practices.
3. They must write the individual essay and present it in a timely manner following the instructions given by the teachers of the subject.
