Cambios introducidos en los contenidos

The program has not been essentially changed, but in some of the lessons the contents have been partially modified. These changes are only on Lessons 9 and 10. In Lesson 9 we are not going to study the harmonized CPI. Additionally, the following topics of Lesson 10 are not considered: (i) calculating the trend by moving averages; (ii) calculating the seasonal component and, (iii) seasonal adjustment. Numerical problems will be not included on Lesson 10.

Cambios introducidos en las metodologías y plan de trabajo

After the classes have been officially cancelled, all the face-to-face activities are now transformed into online tasks (excepting the time reserved for the final exam). The students have online resources to help them following the course. For the theoretical contents they have available the online handbook(s), and the video presentations and their slides on the Virtual Campus (plus some additional material if required). Regarding the problems, they have available documents with detailed solutions of the list of problems that would be solved on regular face-to-face classes. The professor holds weekly sessions on MS Teams on which students can clarify their doubts upon request.

Cambios introducidos en la evaluación

In all the calls of this course the final grade will be given by the most advantageous situation to the student:

- a weighted mean of the scores in the two tests corresponding to the continuous assessment (20%) and the score in the final exam (80%).
- only the score in the final exam.

No more continuous assessment activities will be implemented this semester. Given the characteristics of this course we opt for a face-to-face final exam. This final exam will be taken only when the health and safety conditions allow us to do that and on the official dates set by the University of Oviedo.

Cambios introducidos en las tutorías

Online tutorials -by groups and one-to-one- will be held through the MS Teams platform. Specific doubts can be solved by email as well.

* Los cambios introducidos no deben alterar las competencias ni los resultados de aprendizaje esperados
