Cambios introducidos en las metodologías y plan de trabajo

Since the 14th of March, the sessions (Mondays and Tuesdays) have been developed virtually through Microsoft Teams, where the Professor has created a specific space for the World Economy English group.

This module is designed with a Flipped Learning approach and this framework has been maintained. The virtual sessions focused on active learning and participation through different applications as Quizziz, Padlet and Pear Deck.

Cambios introducidos en la evaluación

Initially, presential final exam is maintained

In this group Continuous assessment activities have also being reinforced to pace students engagement and keep them connected with the module.

Cambios introducidos en las tutorías

* Los cambios introducidos no deben alterar las competencias ni los resultados de aprendizaje esperados

A forum for Questions and Doubts has been opened in the Virtual Campus. The Teams space chat has supported most of the communication between students and Professor and will be open till the exam date to meet the clarification demands from students. Personalized videoconferences have been maintained with students to clarify their doubts and queries . Also, every student maintained an individual videoconference, established by appointment, with the Professor to discuss about drafts for one the continuous assessment activities whose deadline was the 28th of April.
